Rixensart

The former industrial wasteland of the Paper Mills of Genval, in the commune of Rixensart, has been restructured to bring forth a new housing, commercial and service area. This new complex is very close to the future RER station.

Phase 3 of this project consists of the construction of several buildings representing 132 apartments, underground parking lots and shops.

Located in the Lasne river Valley and at the edge of the woods, the project is part of a green setting emphasizing the relationship with the environment creating a dialogue between the project and the historic city center.
